BYRON CENTER PUBLIC SCHOOLS
Helping Students Build Success Stories

Byron Center Public Schools is committed to meeting its obligations under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA).

Although the District is involved in pending litigation over records requested under the Act, it has chosen to release these records voluntarily and at no cost to the requester. Information was withheld or redacted as FOIA permits, and the requester received an explanation for each exemption.

The District released these records to resolve the matter efficiently and to be good stewards of district funds. It also does not concede that any fee the District charged was improper. The District stands by its handling of these requests.The release is not an admission of liability but is intended to bring the litigation to an end. Because the litigation is ongoing, the District will not comment further.

The District will continue to abide by its commitment to transparency and its obligations under FOIA.